Conflict Minerals

ELECO company understands the seriousness of the possibility that tin mined in conflict areas of the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) and surrounding countries may become part of the electronics supply chain.

Moreover, we understand that profits from such tin mining in conflict areas may be encouraging certain unfair labor practices or other human rights violations in the DRC. We are committed to ensuring that minerals from conflict mines do not enter the supply chain of ELECO company.

ELECO company supports the actions of the Electronic Industry Citizenship coalition (EICC) and Global e-Sustainability Initiative (GeSI) and has collected information from our current metal suppliers concerning the origin of the metal that is used in manufacture of ELECO products.

This document declares that some of the ELECO products contain one of the conflict minerals (tin) and that this mineral is necessary to the functionality of the products manufactured. This document declares that minerals used in ELECO products do not originate in the DRC or an adjoining country or come from recycler or scrap supplier. This document declares that all ELECO products are declared „DRC conflict free“.
